

Call for papers for the fourth dossier of the journal

Notas de Antropología de las Américas

“Andean Ethnohistory: A Tribute to Catherine Julien”

The journal Notas de Antropología de las Américas, an open-access annual online publication by the Department of Anthropology of the Americas at the University of Bonn, invites scholars in the humanities and social sciences to submit articles and unpublished papers for its fourth dossier, “Etnohistoria Andina: Tributo a Catherine Julien” (Andean Ethnohistory: A Tribute to Catherine Julien), to be published in the second half of 2025.

With our fourth dossier, we aim to highlight the career and contributions of Dr. Catherine Julien to the field of Andean ethnohistory. In particular, we wish to extol her emblematic text Reading Inca History, which has inspired more than a generation of researchers since its publication nearly 25 years ago. In the acknowledgments of this renowned piece, Dr. Julien fondly and gratefully reminisced about her time in Germany and her affiliation with the University of Bonn from 1987 to 1995. Throughout this period, the exchange of ideas in seminars and discussions among colleagues from many countries and professional backgrounds had a crucial role in fostering the advancement of her study, which would materialize in subsequent years.

Emphasizing the interdisciplinary nature of Dr. Julien’s studies, we invite you to submit papers with a focus on Andean ethnohistory but also from anthropology, history, archaeology, and related disciplines.

In addition, the journal includes a small section with various articles to complement each dossier. Hence, contributions on topics other than those mentioned above are also welcome. Reviews of recently published books in the languages used by the journal are particularly encouraged.

The editors appreciate questions regarding the relevance of articles prior to submission. Please send us your contributions to notasaa@uni-bonn.de by October 31, 2024.
